Frequently Asked Questions

- 1. Can I choose my residence hall?
Students provide their preferences for their Living Learning Communities, and interest in the LLCs will dictate which building you will be in for a given year.
- 2. When is move-in?
Move-in week happens around Labor Day. Your specific move-in date will be provided to you when you get your room assignment.
- 3. When will I know my housing assignment?
First-year students will begin to receive housing assignments in July and will continue throughout the summer.
- 4. What if I don't get along with my roommate?
We encourage residents to openly communicate with their roommate. Residential Life provides roommate agreement templates to help facilitate this communication between roommates. Residential Life staff will work with you and your roommates to resolve conflicts. All attempts to resolve conflict so that roommates can maintain a respectful living environment will be explored prior to considering requests to change your room.
- 5. What should I bring when I move in?
Bring the things you will need, but leave the prohibited and extra items at home! Specific items are listed on our website and the Guide to Residence Hall Living. You'll also want to communicate with your roommate beforehand so you don't end up with two of everything!

Housing by the Numbers

- First-Year students are placed into 18 different Living Learning Communities (LLCs) spread across 11+ different residence halls.
- Over 95% of first-year students are placed into one of their top three LLC choices.
- 95% of first-year students live in double, triple, or quad occupancy room.
- The smallest first-year building houses about 60 students, and the largest houses over 600 students!
- About 25% of students request a roommate, and the rest are matched by the housing application.
- The Resident Assistant to student ratio is 1:36 in first-year communities.

University Housing

- Undergraduates who enter as first-year students through fall admission and NUin are required to live in university housing during their first and second years, unless a global or co-op experience takes them outside of the city of Boston.
- First-year students are placed in housing based on their Living Learning Community preferences. Roommate requests are permitted through the housing application process.
- All Gender Housing is offered to students of every class year and can be requested in the online housing application.
- Students who require certain housing accommodations for a medical reason should register with the Disability Resource Center.

We will review all housing applications in enrollment deposit date order and do our best to accommodate all requests based on availability.
