Frequently Asked Questions

1. How am I placed into my LLC?

There are so many LLCs to choose from! Review each community's description on our website, and consider which is the best fit for you. On your housing application, you will have the opportunity to rank your top 3 LLC preferences.

2. Does my major require that I live in a specific LLC?

You are not required to live in a college affiliated LLC based on your academic major. You can choose from a Thematic, Interdisciplinary LLC, or a different College Affiliated LLC that is not related to your major.

3. When will I know my LLC placement?

First-year students will begin to receive housing assignments starting in July and will continue throughout the summer. This will include your LLC placement.

4. What types of activities occur in LLCs?

LLCs host various events throughout the year, including scavenger hunts, dinners with professors, trips around Boston, advising and career panels, open-mic nights, and building-wide debates. These are opportunities to grow and learn with your community. You can also work with your Resident Assistant to decide what activities they plan for your community!

Live. Learn. Grow.

“I like being able to find people with similar passions as me. I have formed close relationships with the people on my floor that I know will last.”

Living Learning Communities are your first step to feeling at home at Northeastern! But where to begin? Let's look at defining the LLC:

- Living Learning Community is a group of students with similar interests, passions, and goals and is aimed at connecting you to your hall and Northeastern. All LLCs support students learning outside of the classroom.
- College Affiliated LLCs allow you to connect easily with others in your major.
- Thematic LLCs are all about supporting your interests outside of the classroom and pairing you with students who have similar interests.
- Interdisciplinary LLCs combine your academic interests and achievements with everyday life outside of the classroom.

Build Connections

LLCs allow you to engage in a holistic, cross-curricular experience in your residential community. With the support of Residential Life staff, campus partners, faculty and academic liaisons, you will make new relationships and gain resources that enhance your academic, social, and residential experiences.
